

CONCERN #19: Are SPLC 'researchers', 'attorneys', 'analysts,' etc., directly, or indirectly connected to ANTIFA or violent protests?

Home > Madison > Witnesses dispute police report in case of driver being beaten after driving...

MADISON

Witnesses dispute police report in case of driver being beaten after driving into protesters

By Robert Chappell - Jun 24, 2020 0

Antifascist Space Inv... · 4h ...

Replying to @jeff_tischauser

Terry Newsome is employed by @Capgemini.

Let them know how you feel about all of this

Terry Newsome
Capgemini Associate Vice President
Chicago, Illinois, United States · Contact info
111 followers · 500+ connections

+ Follow Message More

Witnesses dispute that sequence of events.

Protester Jeff Tischauser said another protester stopped the car near a traffic barrier and asked the driver, "Are you with us?" Tischauser said the driver responded, "F no" and attempted to drive past the traffic barricade that had been placed in the middle of the traffic lanes on John Nolen Drive.

Tischauser said it didn't seem "inadvertent."

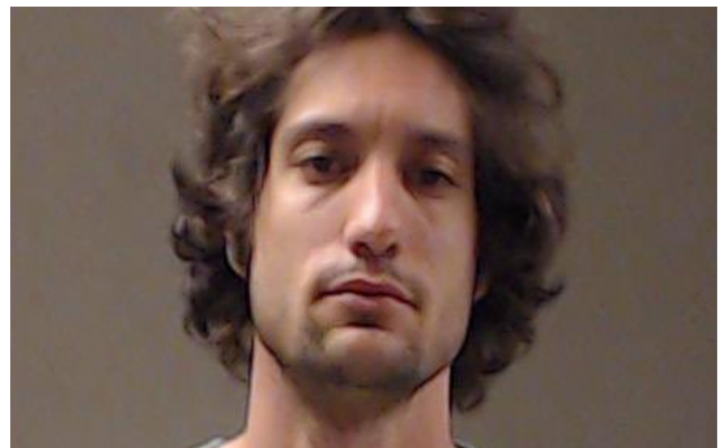

"It seemed like a calculated decision to get to his destination a little bit sooner," Tischauser said in a Facebook message to Madison365.

ATLANTA · Published March 6, 2023 7:01pm EST

Southern Poverty Law Center lawyer arrested, charged with domestic terrorism amid Atlanta 'Cop City' attack

Jurgens is one of only two Georgians arrested Sunday

By Emma Colton | Fox News

Thomas Jurgens was arrested in Atlanta and charged with domestic terrorism (Atlanta Police Department)