

CONCERN 37: SPLC’S ‘LEARNING FOR JUSTICE’ CURRICULUM INFLUENCES INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM DEBATE WITHIN PUBLICLY FUNDED EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS.

Despite claiming, “It is outside of [SPLC’s] purview and expertise to comment on international events⁴⁸,” SPLC’s ‘Learning for Justice’ (L4J) public school curriculum claims the foreign conflict between Israel-Palestinian “connects imperialism and other oppressive systems” and encourages teachers to “name and address with students.”

Resources provided by L4J include: “Terrorism and the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict,” in which the author, Dr. Jeremy Slater states, “...Israeli terrorism has been significantly worse than that of the Palestinians.”
